

THE PACT PRACTITIONER'S CODE OF PRACTICE

As a Professional member of the Pacific Association of Craniosacral Therapists, this practitioner will:

- Put your needs as an individual first - treating everyone equally regarding gender, ethnicity, disability, culture, beliefs, sexuality, lifestyle, age, social status or linguistic ability,
- Work to foster and maintain trust,
- Maintain appropriate professional and personal boundaries,
- Listen to you and respect your views,
- Give you the information you need and ensure that you understand it so you can make informed choices,
- Respect your right to autonomy,
- Respect and protect confidential information,
- Be clear about how and why confidential information may be disclosed elsewhere,
- Maintain and develop their professional knowledge and skills,
- Practice within their boundaries of competence,
- Respond promptly and constructively to concerns, criticisms or complaints,
- Respect the skills of other health care professionals, and when appropriate will work in co-operation with them,

By behaving professionally at all times, in accordance with the PACT Code of Ethics, a copy of which can be viewed on the PACT website at:

www.bcst.info

